

Maldives November 6-15, 2009

Astoundingly beautiful soft corals. Abundant fish and invertebrates. Breathtaking large animal encounters. These are just a few of the words divers use to describe the Maldives. Located in the Indian Ocean, this grouping of thousands of jewel-like islands sees few divers from the Western Hemisphere — despite its world-class diving.

An archipelago such as this is almost impossible to adequately explore from a land-based resort. This is why knowledgeable divers choose the luxury live-a-board Manthiri. Everything about Manthiri is first class.

To ensure maximum comfort, Manthiri limits trips to just 12 passengers. To further increase elbow room, Manthiri employs a separate, 54-foot dive support vessel.

Manthiri's experienced crew knows how to share the very best of Maldives diving with their guests. And, given the flexibility afforded by the vessel's mobility, they can go wherever that may be, regardless of season.

The price of this trip includes nine night's accommodations on board Manthiri, all meals and diving. Guest are responsible for arranging air transportation, and for any hotel accommodations necessitated by the length of travel.

The most attractive air fare will likely be on Emirates Air, leaving JFK for Male, with a change of planes in Dubai. We have flight numbers and times — just ask!

With only twelve spaces available, this trip will fill fast. Reserve now on line or over the phone. For more information, call us at (440) 942-7575.
